

Broken Angel

Angels life couldnt be better. She made the cheerleading squad, plus shes got the most fabulous friends and perfect parents.

But one evening, the phone rings, and everything changes. Now she has to face life without her father while she and her mother spiral downwards. Angel finds her grief uncontrollable, and soon she cant keep herself away from drugs and alcohol. It feels like none of her old friends can reawaken the old Angel. Even her new friend Brent cant heal the emotional scars of loss. Finally, a ray of hope shines through the clouds when Angel discovers meditation and how it could help her. But can Angel find the perseverance to continue living? Or will she be forever caught in an eternity of tearful despair?
